How has podcasting about retina changed your outlook on the profession?

Podcasting about retina on the show "Straight From the Cutter's Mouth" has given me a new perspective on the importance of history in our field, the revolutionary progress of available tools and technology, and our unique collegiality. As our field advances and modernizes at an accelerating rate, we are not just standing on the shoulders of giants, we are building skyscrapers on those shoulders. And the people designing those skyscrapers are among the nicest, most generous people one could ever hope to meet.

— Jayanth Sridhar, MD

In each edition of @RetinaToday, the editorial team of Retina Today asks an editorial advisory board member or other expert in the field a question.

NOW PLAYING ON

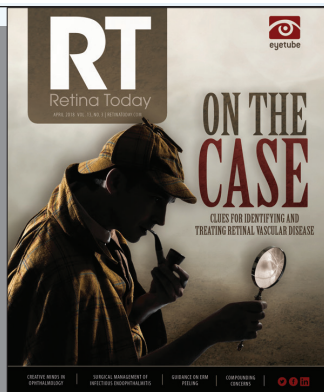

In this episode of Retina Today Journal Club, Dean Elliott, MD, sits down with Charles C. Wykoff, MD, PhD, FACS, and Aleksandra Rachitskaya, MD, to talk about management strategies for proliferative vitreoretinopathy. Dr. Elliott discusses when to use a scleral buckle, what to do with the patient's crystalline lens, and the use of silicone oil.
